CANDIDATE ARTICLES FOR TECHNICAL REVISION

Article II

None identified.

Article X

SECTION 1. Amendments to United States Constitution.

Text: The legislature shall not take action on any proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States unless a majority of the members thereof have been elected after the proposed amendment has been submitted for ratification.

Potential candidate for removal purpose since declared unconstitutional under the U.S. Constitution.

Article XI

None identified.

Article XII

SECTION 3. Officers to continue in office.

Text: Every person holding office when this revision becomes effective shall continue in office for the remainder of the term if that office is not abolished. If the office is abolished the incumbent shall be paid adequate compensation, to be fixed by law, for the loss of emoluments for the remainder of the term.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met.

SECTION 4. State commissioner of education.

Text: The state superintendent of public instruction in office on the effective date of this revision shall become and, for the remainder of the term being served, shall be the commissioner of education.

Potential candidate for removal as the constitutional office has been abolished. The term of office Section 4 affects has long since passed. The state superintendent of public instruction no longer exists and the commissioner of education has been appointed by the State Board of Education since Article IX, Section 2 of the Florida Constitution was amended in 1998.¹

SECTION 5. Superintendent of schools.

¹ See Fla. Stat. § 20.15 for additional details regarding the selection of the Commissioner of Education.

Text: (a) On the effective date of this revision the county superintendent of public instruction of each county shall become and, for the remainder of the term being served, shall be the superintendent of schools of that district.

(b) The method of selection of the county superintendent of public instruction of each county, as provided by or under the Constitution of 1885, as amended, shall apply to the selection of the district superintendent of schools until changed as herein provided.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The term of office Section 5 affects has long since passed. Each district superintendent of schools is selected pursuant to Article IX, section 5 of the Florida Constitution.²

SECTION 6. Laws preserved.

Text: (b) All statutes which, under the Constitution of 1885, as amended, apply to the state superintendent of public instruction and those which apply to the county superintendent of public instruction shall under this revision apply, respectively, to the state commissioner of education and the district superintendent of schools.

Florida statutes have been updated to reflect the abolition of the state superintendent of public instruction and all county superintendents of public instruction.³

SECTION 7. Rights reserved.

Text: (a) All actions, rights of action, claims, contracts and obligations of individuals, corporations and public bodies or agencies existing on the date this revision becomes effective shall continue to be valid as if this revision had not been adopted. All taxes, penalties, fines and forfeitures owing to the state under the Constitution of 1885, as amended, shall inure to the state under this revision, and all sentences as punishment for crime shall be executed according to their terms.

(b) This revision shall not be retroactive so as to create any right or liability which did not exist under the Constitution of 1885, as amended, based upon matters occurring prior to the adoption of this revision.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met.

SECTION 10. Preservation of existing government.

Text: All provisions of Articles I through IV, VII and IX through XX of the Constitution of 1885, as amended, not embraced herein which are not inconsistent with this revision shall become statutes subject to modification or repeal as are other statutes.

Note.—See table in Volume 6 of the Florida Statutes tracing various provisions of the Constitution of 1885, as amended, into the Florida Statutes.

² See Fla. Stat. §§ 1001.46, 1001.461 for additional details regarding the selection of a district superintendent of schools.

³ See e.g., Fla. Stat. §§ 20.15 and 1001.46.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. As a result of the Florida Supreme Court's holding in Dade County v. American Hospital of Miami, Inc.,⁴ the only provisions of the Constitution of 1885 that are statutes have already been adopted by the Legislature—the rest were repealed by revisor bills.⁵ As such, Section 10 is obsolete and could be repealed without making a substantive change to the Constitution.⁶

SECTION 12. Senators.

Text: The requirements of staggered terms of senators in Section 15(a), of Article III of this revision shall apply only to senators elected in November, 1972, and thereafter.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The term of office Section 12 affects has long since passed. This provision is not needed to give effect to Fla. Const. art. III, § 15(a).

SECTION 13. Legislative apportionment.

Text: The requirements of legislative apportionment in Section 16 of Article III of this revision shall apply only to the apportionment of the legislature following the decennial census of 1970, and thereafter.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The term of office Section 13 affects has long since passed. This provision is not needed to give effect to Fla. Const. art. III, § 16.

SECTION 14. Representatives; terms.

Text: The legislature at its first regular session following the ratification of this revision, by joint resolution, shall propose to the electors of the state for ratification or rejection in the general election of 1970 an amendment to Article III, Section 15(b), of the constitution providing staggered terms of four years for members of the house of representatives.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 14 expired after 1970.

SECTION 15. Special district taxes.

Text: Ad valorem taxing power vested by law in special districts existing when this revision becomes effective shall not be abrogated by Section 9(b) of Article VII herein, but such powers, except to the extent necessary to pay outstanding debts, may be restricted or withdrawn by law.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met.

SECTION 16. Reorganization.—

Text: The requirement of Section 6, Article IV of this revision shall not apply until July 1, 1969.

⁴ 502 So. 2d 1230 (Fla. 1987).

⁵ Dade Cty. v. Am. Hosp. of Miami, Inc., 502 So. 2d 1230, 1232 (Fla. 1987).

⁶ FLA. S. INTERIM PROJECT REP. NO. 2006-141, Options for Streamlining the State Constitution, at 6 (2006).

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 16 expired after 1969.

SECTION 18. Bonds for housing and related facilities.

Text: Section 16 of Article VII, providing for bonds for housing and related facilities, shall take effect upon approval by the electors.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The provision to which this section gives effect, Section 16 of Article VII, was adopted in 1980.⁷

SECTION 19. Renewable energy source property.

Text: The amendment to Section 3 of Article VII, relating to an exemption for a renewable energy source device and real property on which such device is installed, if adopted at the special election in October 1980, shall take effect January 1, 1981.

Note:

A. This section, originally designated section 18 by S.J.R. 15-E, 1980, was redesignated section 19 by the editors in order to avoid confusion with section 18 as contained in S.J.R. 6-E, 1980.

B. The amendment to section 3 of Article VII, relating to an exemption for renewable energy source property, was repealed effective November 4, 2008, by Am. proposed by the Taxation and Budget Reform Commission, Revision No. 3, 2008, filed with the Secretary of State April 28, 2008; adopted 2008.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 19 expired after 1981. Additionally, the amendment to section 3 of Article VII was repealed effective November 4, 2008.⁸

SECTION 20. Access to public records.

Text: Section 24 of Article I, relating to access to public records, shall take effect July 1, 1993.

History.—Added, C.S. for C.S. for H.J.R.'s 1727, 863, 2035, 1992; adopted 1992.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 20 expired after 1993.

SECTION 21. State revenue limitation.

The amendment to Section 1 of Article VII limiting state revenues shall take effect January 1, 1995, and shall first be applicable to state fiscal year 1995-1996.

⁷ Fla. Const. art. VII, § 16 History.

⁸ Fla. Const. art. XII, § 19 n.1 B.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 21 expired after 1995.

SECTION 22. Historic property exemption and assessment.

Text: The amendments to Sections 3 and 4 of Article VII relating to ad valorem tax exemption for, and assessment of, historic property shall take effect January 1, 1999.

History.—Added, H.J.R. 969, 1997; adopted 1998.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 22 expired after 1999.

SECTION 23. Fish and wildlife conservation commission.

Text: (a) The initial members of the commission shall be the members of the game and fresh water fish commission and the marine fisheries commission who are serving on those commissions on the effective date of this amendment, who may serve the remainder of their respective terms. New appointments to the commission shall not be made until the retirement, resignation, removal, or expiration of the terms of the initial members results in fewer than seven members remaining.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The term of office Section 23 affects has since passed. All seven current members of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission were appointed after 2004.⁹

(b) The jurisdiction of the marine fisheries commission as set forth in statutes in effect on March 1, 1998, shall be transferred to the fish and wildlife conservation commission. The jurisdiction of the marine fisheries commission transferred to the commission shall not be expanded except as provided by general law. All rules of the marine fisheries commission and game and fresh water fish commission in effect on the effective date of this amendment shall become rules of the fish and wildlife conservation commission until superseded or amended by the commission.

(c) On the effective date of this amendment, the marine fisheries commission and game and fresh water fish commission shall be abolished.

(d) This amendment shall take effect July 1, 1999.

History.—Proposed by Constitution Revision Commission, Revision No. 5, 1998, filed with the Secretary of State May 5, 1998; adopted 1998.

Note.—This section, originally designated section 22 by Revision No. 5 of the Constitution Revision Commission, 1998, was redesignated section 23 by the editors in order to avoid confusion with section 22 as created in H.J.R. 969, 1997.

⁹ The Commissioners, Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (last visited Sep. 19, 2017), <http://myfwc.com/about/commission/commissioners/>.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of these subsections expired after 1999.

SECTION 24. Executive branch reform.

Text: (a) The amendments contained in this revision shall take effect January 7, 2003, but shall govern with respect to the qualifying for and the holding of primary elections in 2002. The office of chief financial officer shall be a new office as a result of this revision.

(b) In the event the secretary of state is removed as a cabinet office in the 1998 general election, the term “custodian of state records” shall be substituted for the term “secretary of state” throughout the constitution and the duties previously performed by the secretary of state shall be as provided by law.

History.—Proposed by Constitution Revision Commission, Revision No. 8, 1998, filed with the Secretary of State May 5, 1998; adopted 1998.

Note.—This section, originally designated section 22 by Revision No. 8 of the Constitution Revision Commission, 1998, was redesignated section 24 by the editors in order to avoid confusion with section 22 as created in H.J.R. 969, 1997.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 24 expired after 2003.

SECTION 25. Schedule to Article V amendment.

Text: (a) Commencing with fiscal year 2000-2001, the legislature shall appropriate funds to pay for the salaries, costs, and expenses set forth in the amendment to Section 14 of Article V pursuant to a phase-in schedule established by general law.

(b) Unless otherwise provided herein, the amendment to Section 14 shall be fully effectuated by July 1, 2004.

History.—Proposed by Constitution Revision Commission, Revision No. 7, 1998, filed with the Secretary of State May 5, 1998; adopted 1998.

Note.—This section, originally designated section 22 by Revision No. 7 of the Constitution Revision Commission, 1998, was redesignated section 25 by the editors in order to avoid confusion with section 22 as created in H.J.R. 969, 1997.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 25 expired after 2004.

SECTION 26. Increased homestead exemption.

Text: The amendment to Section 6 of Article VII increasing the maximum additional amount of the homestead exemption for low-income seniors shall take effect January 1, 2007.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 26 expired after 2007.

SECTION 27. Property tax exemptions and limitations on property tax assessments.

Text: The amendments to Sections 3, 4, and 6 of Article VII, providing a $25,000 exemption for tangible personal property, providing an additional $25,000 homestead exemption, authorizing transfer of the accrued benefit from the limitations on the assessment of homestead property, and this section, if submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at a special election authorized by law to be held on January 29, 2008, shall take effect upon approval by the electors and shall operate retroactively to January 1, 2008, or, if submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election, shall take effect January 1 of the year following such general election. The amendments to Section 4 of Article VII creating subsections (f) and (g) of that section, creating a limitation on annual assessment increases for specified real property, shall take effect upon approval of the electors and shall first limit assessments beginning January 1, 2009, if approved at a special election held on January 29, 2008, or shall first limit assessments beginning January 1, 2010, if approved at the general election held in November of 2008. Subsections (f) and (g) of Section 4 of Article VII are repealed effective January 1, 2019; however, the legislature shall by joint resolution propose an amendment abrogating the repeal of subsections (f) and (g), which shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the general election of 2018 and, if approved, shall take effect January 1, 2019.

History.—Added, C.S. for S.J.R. 2-D, 2007; adopted 2008.

Note.—Subsections (f) and (g) of s. 4, Art. VII of the State Constitution, as created by S.J.R. 2-D, 2007, adopted January 29, 2008, were redesignated as subsections (g) and (h) by Revision No. 4, Taxation and Budget Reform Commission, adopted November 4, 2008.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of the underlined text in Section 27 expired after 2009.

SECTION 28. Property tax exemption and classification and assessment of land used for conservation purposes.

Text: The amendment to Section 3 of Article VII requiring the creation of an ad valorem tax exemption for real property dedicated in perpetuity for conservation purposes, and the amendment to Section 4 of Article VII requiring land used for conservation purposes to be classified by general law and assessed solely on the basis of character or use for purposes of ad valorem taxation, shall take effect upon approval by the electors and shall be implemented by January 1, 2010. This section shall take effect upon approval of the electors.

History.—Proposed by Taxation and Budget Reform Commission, Revision No. 4, 2008, filed with the Secretary of State April 28, 2008; adopted 2008.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 28 expired after 2010.

SECTION 29. Limitation on the assessed value of real property used for residential purposes.

Text: (a) The repeal of the renewable energy source property tax exemption in Section 3 of Article VII shall take effect upon approval by the voters.

(b) The amendment to Section 4 of Article VII authorizing the legislature to prohibit an increase in the assessed value of real property used for residential purposes as the result of improving the property's resistance to wind damage or installing a renewable energy source device shall take effect January 1, 2009.

History.—Proposed by Taxation and Budget Reform Commission, Revision No. 3, 2008, filed with the Secretary of State April 28, 2008; adopted 2008.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of subsection (a) expired when the renewable energy tax exemption was repealed in 2008.¹⁰

SECTION 30. Assessment of working waterfront property.

Text: The amendment to Section 4 of Article VII providing for the assessment of working waterfront property based on current use, and this section, shall take effect upon approval by the electors and shall first apply to assessments for tax years beginning January 1, 2010.

History.—Proposed by Taxation and Budget Reform Commission, Revision No. 6, 2008, filed with the Secretary of State April 28, 2008; adopted 2008.

Potential candidate for removal as purpose has been met. The effect of Section 30 expired after 2010.

SECTION 31. Additional ad valorem tax exemption for certain members of the armed forces deployed on active duty outside of the United States.

Text: The amendment to Section 3 of Article VII providing for an additional ad valorem tax exemption for members of the United States military or military reserves, the United States Coast Guard or its reserves, or the Florida National Guard deployed on active duty outside of the United States in support of military operations designated by the legislature and this section shall take effect January 1, 2011.
