

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

No. 73,999

STATE OF FLORIDA, Petitioner,

vs.

ROOSEVELT JONES, Respondent

[March 29, 1990]

OPINION:

In Jones v. State, 548 So.2d 244, 244 n.2 (Fla. 3d DCA 1989), the district court certified the following question as one of great public importance:

Whether a twelve-person jury is required in a first degree murder case in which the prosecution waives the death penalty?

We have jurisdiction. Art. V, § 3(b)(4), Fla. Const. In State v. Griffith, 561 So. 2d 528 (Fla. 1990), we answered the certified question with a qualified affirmative and held that, regardless of whether the state seeks the death penalty, a twelve-person jury is required in first-degree murder trials unless waived by the defense. In this case defense counsel's agreement with the state to trial by a six-person jury in exchange for the state's waiver of the death penalty constituted a valid waiver of Jones's statutory right to trial by a twelve-person jury.* Griffith. We therefore quash the district court's decision.

* The following exchange took place on the record.

MR. SOHN: [Defense Counsel]: It's my understanding the State is waiving the death penalty. We have agreed to a jury of six.

MR. NORRIS: [Prosecutor]: That's correct, Judge.

It is so ordered.
