SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

While this Honorable Court has jurisdiction to review the instant case, the State respectfully requests this Court decline to take jurisdiction in the interest of conserving limited judicial resources.

ARGUMENT

ISSUE

WHETHER DISCRETIONARY REVIEW SHOULD BE ACCEPTED IN THIS CASE TO REVIEW THE 1989
AMENDMENTS TO THE HABITUAL OFFENDER STATUTE

In the instant case, the basic issue presented to the Sixth Judicial Circuit Court under a Motion for Post Conviction Relief pursuant to Florida Rule of Criminal Procedure 3.850 was whether the habitual felony offender statute applied and used to enhance Petitioner's sentence was constitutional at the time of his sentencing, citing Johnson v. State, 589 So.2d 1370 (Fla. 1st DCA 1991). Johnson is currently pending in this Honorable Court as State of Florida v. Cecil B. Johnson, Nos. 79,150 and 79,204 (oral argument scheduled to be held in November 1992). In denying Petitioner's Motion for Post Conviction Relief, the Circuit Court noted its awareness that section 775.084, Florida Statutes, has been found to violate the single subject prohibition, citing to Johnson, supra. Notwithstanding the above, Petitioner was, in the court's judgment, properly sentenced as a habitual offender.

The Second District Court of Appeal, pursuant to Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.140(g), affirmed Petitioner's sentence citing to McCall v. State, 583 So.2d 411 (Fla. 4th DCA 1992), rev. granted, 593 So.2d 1052 (Fla. 1992). More recently the Second District Court of Appeal in Crews v. State, 17 F.L.W. D1955 (Fla. 2d DCA Aug. 21, 1992) specifically agreed with the Fourth District in McCall, supra and found "that the 1989 amendments to the habitual offender statute were not invalid as violative of the one subject provision of the Florida Constitution." Therefore, it would appear that this Honorable Court has jurisdiction based upon conflict but Respondent submits, however, that this Court should decline to accept jurisdiction in this case in the interest of conserving valuable limited judicial resources.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing arguments and citations of authority, Respondent respectfully requests this Honorable Court to refuse to exercise discretionary jurisdiction to review this case.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT A. BUTTERWORTH
ATTORNEY GENERAL
