Re: James E. Lehan – No. 93-9224

[July 20, 1993]

OPINION:

INQUIRY CONCERNING A JUDGE

On July 19, 1993, the Judicial Qualifications Commission recommended that the Court order Judge James E. Lehan's involuntary retirement due to a physical disability that seriously interferes with the performance of his judicial duties. Judge Lehan does not contest the commission's recommendation. Therefore, we adopt the commission's recommendation and declare James E. Lehan to be involuntarily retired from judicial service as of midnight, Tuesday, July 20, 1993.
