DEAR SIR:

I have looked over the new lease provisions;
I don't believe that the landlord phone and email should be included. They have hired rental agents to provide that buffer between tenants and owner and by putting it on the lease it will open the owner to complaints and issues that should go through the rental agent.

Also I don't agree with needing a agreement from all homeowners associations

If you have any further questions or need any further information please call me.
